PREVENT LOSS OF HOMES IS HOWSON PLEA

The humanitarian motive of the Liberal homes saving resolution was turned down and killed by the government and its supporters.

The Liberal resolution declared that Alberta's taxation system was obsolete, inadequate and an unnecessary burden upon the land and home owners. It urged that immediate steps be taken to effect radical change in the collection system to save homes from loss by foreclosure.

For provincial, municipal and school board purposes, it was suggested that levies should be based upon value of production in all activities and upon the ability of the home owner to pay.

It attacked excessive direct land taxation without regard for the owner's ability, and urged that the Liberal plan, said Mr. Howson, clearly set forth his party's position on the question of the homes saving resolution in the province.

At some length the leader emphasized his party's monetary policy which he declared, contained far more practical and realistic proposals than could be found in the Aherhart plan theories. The keynotes of the Liberal policy were:

1. To maintain and improve the public-owned and operated credit system and to effect a more equitable distribution of credit.

2. To secure internal working capital for the province.

3. To establish a branch of the National Bank in this province.

The document said Mr. Howson could issue more money or credit through the central bank, but he said that it would be the nation's assets, represented by developed and undeveloped lands, and the farms, homes, industries of the province, also, that were the basis of the credit.

MONEY AT SMALL COST

Speaking in Alberta, the speaker attributed largely to the nation's credit shortage, it was but right and reasonable that the province should return, be able to secure money or credit on its own terms, and at interest rates but at a small cost.

Mr. Howson would give Alberta a credit system, and a charge of very low percentage. This, he said, would give Alberta the money needed to carry out its work-ways program and would give the province a credit system, and a charge of very low percentage. This, he said, would give Alberta the money needed to carry out its work-ways program and would give the province a credit system, and a charge of very low percentage.

CHANGE OF SYSTEM

More money and little promises of $25 per month would not solve Alberta's credit problem, said the speaker. A complete change of the system was required. This, he said, would give Alberta the money needed to carry out its work-ways program and would give the province a credit system, and a charge of very low percentage.

FULL CO-OPERATION

Plenishing the eyes of a new all-Alberta conference, during this session, Mr. Howson urged the importance of co-operation in the province. He said that the province should return, be able to secure money or credit on its own terms, and at interest rates but at a small cost.

DICTATING OF BENNETT NOW LOSING PUNCH

themselves with a moribund government. Men whom Mr. Bennett should have got, and could have got in 1930 declined to join his cabinet in 1935. Nearly forty of his own adherents in the Commons ducked for the safety of the senate or offices of emolument under the crown and left the prime minister with a weakened cabinet, which was weak enough to start with.

DEMANDS REWARDS

Fifteen Conservative members evaded the coming fight and demanded their rewards for more or less faithful service. A few of them like Mr. Rhodes had come to the end of the road because of ill-health and earned their senatorships. The majority were just playing safe.

Messrs. Guthrie, Rhodes, Sauve and Duranueau resigned from the cabinet during the week, the first to take the railway commission chairmanship, the second and third to go to the senate and the fourth to the bench.

Mr. Duranueau's elevation to the bench caused complications. John Sullivan, M.P., wanted it but the French hierarchy demanded it for a French-Canadian and got it. Mr. Sullivan had to be provided for, so to provide him with a life job, P. T. Cooclean, acting deputy postmaster general, was robbed of his promotion.

There was a similar difficulty about the postmaster-generalship. Mr. Sauve had never been of any strength to the cabinet. Mr. Bennett tried to strengthen his cabinet in replacing Sauve and offered the portfolio to J. C. H. Dussault of Quebec. Mr. Dussault arrived in company with Senator Rainville. He arrived the day the other ministers were sworn in. As Senator Gobeil, M.P., had been ballyhooed as the new postmaster-general, it was concluded that Mr. Dussault wanted a senatorship.

WANTS SENATORSHIP

Mr. Dussault hadn't thought of a senatorship. He had been sent for by Mr. Bennett and offered the post office portfolio. He declined, but press reports that he was after a senatorship put ideas into his head, and now he wants a senatorship.

In the ministry of finance Mr. Bennett had to find a good man to succeed Mr. Rhodes. Thomas Bradshaw, whose reputation was not invited, but Mr. Bradshaw wasn't having any. He declined. There was searching around. The men who wanted to weren't good enough and the ones who were good enough weren't interested. Bennett then wanted to know if he could requisition their present contacts for a two months' job with a very uncertain future. Mr. Rhodes thereupon will carry on until just before election. If Mr. Rhodes is not found his high financier in the future he will take it on himself to do what he did when he first formed his government in 1930.

NOTHING TO SAY

Speaking of finance, Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Montreal, startled Montagu Norman during the week Mr. Bennett threw a dinner for Mr. Norman and invited Lord Bessborough, the British ambassador, to give the toast. The press tried for days to get an interview with the Bank of England's governor, but Mr. Norman naively replied that he had nothing to say and said exactly that much.

In respect to the ministry of justice, a surprise was sprung. A few days after the swearing in there was talk of Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state and one of the most eminent lawyers in parliament, as being Cahan is not persona grata with Mr. Bennett and he didn't get the senior portfolio.

Mr. J. I. Bowman was considered to have been sufficiently honored by being made speaker for

HAD MORNING COAT

Then Col. J. R. Geary arrived from Toronto and in his grip was a morning coat and he carried a top hat. Morning coats and top hats are worn by ministers being sworn in, indications therefore that Col. Geary was going into the cabinet.

In 1930 Mr. Bennett's eye was taken by young William G. Ernst the Lunenburg fisherman scholar. Mr. Ernst was invited into cabinet, but old Colonel Cantly and W. A. Black turned thumbs down on young Mr. Ernst and Mr. Rhodes was brought in to represent Nova Scotia. Mr. Ernst decided last session there was no more room for a fisher politics and announced his intention of not contesting his riding. Mr. Bennett coaxed him back by making him minister of fisheries. There hasn't been a minister of fisheries for years and years, the portfolio having been left vacant with the ministry of marine. Now the fish and ships have been divorced for duration of election.

In the marine department the veteran deputy Alex Johnston was early retired by the Bennett regime. Edward Hawken the assistant deputy became acting deputy and did the work. Everybody expected his promotion, but there was Maieu Dansereau in Montreal who coveted the job; and got it. Before he was formally appointed he got a better job in Montreal and didn't want the deputy ministership. K. Smith, M.P., who had camped around since session ended got it and Hawken lost his promotion.

CHIEF CLAIM TO FAME

Sam Gobell's chief claim to fame seemed to be a huge reception organized for his leader when Bennett visited Compton in 1907. The prime minister grew fond of him and Sam's admiration was ultimately rewarded. He was sworn in with the others but only as minister without portfolio. This seemed strange. I asked to see his bill when he came out of the government's office. Every privy councillor is sworn in on a new bill which is given to him with the

Political Leaders Advise Electors On Marking Of Ballots

In Exercising Franchise Use Figures, Do Not Mark With an X, and Above All Don't Plump

Use figures on your ballot—do not mark with an X—and, above all, don't plump.

That is the advice of leaders of all political parties in the coming elections, and the rank and file elector would do well to heed it if he or she wishes to save his or her ballot.

"In exercising your franchise under the proportional representation system of voting in the cities where six members are to be elected, it is important to keep in mind the simple principle of this voting system, namely, that the elector is entitled to only one vote, no matter how many

"Keeping this fact in mind it is important that the voter exhausts his or her entire choice on the Edmonton city ballot by marking it 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-10-11-12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27, the entire list of candidates in the order of preference.

"By doing this the voter is simply instructing the Returning Officer how to cast his vote should the favorite candidate of the elector be eliminated or if he has a surplus of votes over the quota and your ballot happens to be among the surplus ballots.

Do Not Ignore It

"If you ignore this method of voting and your favorite candidate is eliminated you might just as well have not voted, as your ballot immediately ceases to function. There lies the danger of "plumping".

"In the rural constituencies, where there is only one member to be elected and the Single Transferable vote system is used the same principles apply. Vote for your favorite first and your next favorites after.

"But be sure to exhaust your ballot. Place the candidates in the order of your preference and leave the rest to the Returning Officer, who has definite instructions under the Election Act as to how to count the vote. The voter does not need to understand the complicated counting method. All he needs to understand is how to vote for his preferences, and the above is the method that should be used. Exhaust your ballot, giving your favorite candidate first choice, and the others in their order of preference."

Remember, every voter has a single vote in a district electing several members and every voter has a chance to express alternative choices. His vote is not wasted on a candidate who does not need it or cannot use it. It might be his first choice or his sixth or fifteenth choice which will score a "bull's eye," but if he "plumps" his vote he may make a direct hit in order to score. Even then it might be case useless should it be one of those used in counting surplus votes because it was not needed in the main count, the candidate of his choice having too many votes.

How System Works

The quota necessary to elect a member is arrived at by dividing the total number of valid votes cast by one more than the number of members to be elected, and taking the whole number next larger than the resulting quotient.

Should a candidate receive 5000 first choices, these 5000 are taken and the returning officer ascertains how many second choices are marked for each of the other candidates. They give each of these candidates the same proportion.

The next procedure is to eliminate the candidate receiving the smallest number of first choices. The ballots of the candidate so eliminated will then have their second choices counted and placed to the credit of the candidate marked.

As soon as a ballot "clicks" it becomes dead. It cannot help to elect more than one candidate.

Must All Receive Quota

The same procedure proceeds until there are six candidates elected. They must all receive the "quota".

Now the question arises which of the voter's choices will score a "bull's eye"? It might be his first choice—his twentieth choice. His ballot remains alive until he hits the target PROVIDING he has used HIS privilege of marking a number opposite each name on the ballot paper.

It is very simple. It only means that you mark number 1 for the man of your choice and the highest number for the man that you are determined SHALL NOT be elected by your assistance.

If you "plump" your ballot and don't score a direct hit, then you sit on the side lines and watch the other fellows have the fun of electing six candidates. You have NOT used your full power—you wasted it.

Exhaust Your Ballot

So remember there is only one thing to do. EXHAUST YOUR BALLOT. Vote for the candidate of your first choice, and then go right down the line, giving your higher numbers to the candidates you are determined shall NOT be elected.

In that way you exercise your franchise fully.

The Governor's general statement announced him as minister without portfolio; Sam's Bible said he was postmaster-general. The government either had to buy him a new Bible. They made him postmaster-general.

How You Can Vote For Twenty - Seven Candidates And Not Lose Your Vote

The list below gives you a clear idea of how the names of all Edmonton candidates will appear on the ballot given you when you go to the polls on Thursday, August 22.

The black figures on the right opposite each candidate's name is the place you will mark your numbers. You will notice that no information is given as to which party the candidates belong to. It is important you decide the order (from your first choice number 1 to 27) in which you are going to mark your ballot before going to the polling booth.

The manner in which the list is marked with the figures 1 to 27 shows you how one may vote. This marked list gives Mr. Howson first choice and the other five Liberal candidates (larger type) in the order they were nominated. Next the Labor candidates are favored, then the Conservatives with all others in the highest figures.

NEXT DROUTHS ARE FORETOLD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Devastating droughts such as that of 1934, may in the future be predicted years ahead as accurately as tomorrow's weather is now forecast by Dr. C. G. Abbott, secretary of the U. S. Weather Bureau. The outstanding authority on radiation of the sun, announced today new results of his studies which offer a key to the sun's rays on the earth's weather which could make promise for long-range weather forecasting.

Dr. Abbott's analysis of the sun shows he secretly predicted the 1934 drought with a high degree of accuracy.

He has established a definite year cycle of weather changes which is apparently dependent on the sun.

He has also suggested the use of marine to be appointed and indications are that some of the present ministers may be fired to make way for others who will have more to do with the coming changes.

U.S. Silver Policy Difficult For China

policy of the United States has made things difficult in China, Sir Frederick W. Sir Frederick is on his way to China to look after British financial interests there. He is stopping in Quebec for a few days.

THE MAIL BAG

Being Opinions of Bulletin Readers

SUCH IS LIFE—By Walt Munson

"You know Miss Turnip, this stuff has a funny effect on you! I'm beginning to see double . . . two of you!"

Editor, Bulletin: In the issue of the Bulletin dated Aug. 13 I note that the government is going to place name plates on all the bridges to assist tourists. Is this a joke?

During July I had the privilege of a trip from Drumheller to Jasper. Between Drumheller and Edmonton I travelled over a road that I did not think could have been made without some dynamite. There were holes in the gravel six inches deep and a few acres and so many of them that it was impossible to travel them at all. I saw two large maintainers working with a blade only, only one of them of good account on the hard road, the road, really, is the only thing that is really any effect but evidently no one was on deck to see that work was being done for the money being expended.

Then the road from Edmonton to Jasper. Where dry, it was so rough that very slow speed only could be followed, the contractors apparently not making any effort to keep the finished part of the road smooth. For part of the way, about seven miles west of Obed, I had four hours' trouble with my car through the mud made road.

Some of the above it appears to me that the government could be doing with their money better to expend it in placing signs on bridges so that tourists know what river they are crossing. The main thing to be able to reach the bridge without breaking your car or getting stuck in the mud.

COMMON SENSE.

A PROPHECY
Editor Bulletin: I see where Mr. Aberhart has gone up for a week among the French to convert them to his way of thinking, but he will find out that the French all know their business and are not led away by Aberhart's dream.

They don't sell out their party for six cents, or turn traitor for any silly dream.

They may go to see what he looks like, but like myself, they know who to vote for and that is for the Liberals, who made Canada.

Only two months ago Social Credit was brought up in the late session and was turned down, which showed that all men are not fools.

Aberhart agrees on one thing, that Aberhart's plan is silly to go to $25 a month to rich and poor alike.

And claiming to put a just price on things there is no such thing as a just price, for what is just to one is not just to another.

Mr. Aberhart will know what a Liberal party is after August 22.

Mr. Aberhart will know more as he grows older, especially after offering the French a slice of candy for their votes.

No Frenchman should be ashamed to be called a Liberal.

It is only a short time ago that in Saskatchewan the great cry was C.C.F. and where the people the house was crowded. Everyone (even myself) thought that we had got a good vote, but when the smoke cleared away they found out that people do not lose three heads with candy talk, and everything went Liberal.

The same way in Ontario where they surprised the world, and went Liberal. Just before that B.C. went Liberal.

And last but not least, the fish-eaters of the coast rolled up a majority never heard of in Canada for the Liberals.

Yes we are proud to be called Liberals and I know the Liberals of Alberta know what I write is history and when election comes will not desert their party and will show up true like the rest of Canada.

To you who have stayed away, I say, "Go back to your old party and let us settle into doing business with the world once more, and everything will be fine."

MATT O'REILLY.
Sunnybrook, Alta.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP
Editor Bulletin: Many years ago I was much amused by a letter published in the English newspaper—written by an irate doctor, who's son had found our province not to his liking, and had returned to a softer life in England.

In this letter he described Alberta as "A mongrel collection of all nationalities." Naturally I was deeply offended, because I was one of the so-called mongrels that made up the "hotch-potch." I have been thinking a great deal lately of that word "hotch-potch."

I say, "Go back to your old party and let us settle into doing business with the world once more, and everything will be fine."

The dummy led a heart, and the rest of that suit through South's major tenace. South's ace went. Think players would have been able to tell that South was giving him his ninth trick while dummy had only one left? Well, yes, if dummy had led only the good K of spades and two long trumps there remained no doubt that South would be put dummy in the lead with one of the three low spades still held by East. But South's ace was a sure way to keep his ace of spades at the ninth trick, which would have taken place? Dumbest of K. K. Klansmen!

Declarer would dummy his last trump, and then lead the ace of hearts. South would have to give, or else he would be in a predicament and dummy having nothing left to play would be in a predicament. He completed the small slam game.

WHEAT SALES GOING SLOWLY

By THOS. WATLING
Bureau to Edmonton Bulletin
OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—John L. McFarlane, controlling the government's huge wheat commitments pending the eventual creation of the wheat board appointed a few days ago, has not been very successful in selling the huge crop-over.

Canada's total wheat sales to the United Kingdom in July only amounted to 437,000 bushels at $2.41.65 as compared with 12,861,566 at $10.00.00 sold in June, 1934. Canada's world sales of wheat are still further down, having dropped from 14,423,000 bushels in June, 1934 to 4,694,222 last June.

During the wheat inquiry last season the prime minister stressed the probability of selling 50,000,000 bushels before the new crop comes in September. During the last 11 months (comprising most of the 1934 crop), Canada has been able to export only 135,216,873

$20,000 Damage Suit Is Filed Against Hospital

BROOKLYN, Aug. 17.—Angelo Avellino, 31-year-old tailor, filed suit Thursday for $20,000 damages against the Israel Zion hospital, alleging the hospital failed to prevent him from attempting suicide.

Last May, 2, Avellino jumped from the third floor window of the hospital, landing on the sidewalk. He was not seriously injured.

According to counsel, Avellino had been in the Israel hospital four days and sought mental treatment to keep himself from committing suicide or doing harm to someone else. The complaint alleged the hospital was "negligent" in not preventing him from jumping from the window.

Brandon Man Heads Chief Constables

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 17.—H. B. Everett, chief constable of Brandon, Man., Thursday was elected president of the Dominion Chief Constables' Association succeeding Chief David Coulter of Hamilton, Ont.

Niagara Falls, Ont., was selected as the 1936 convention city. Manitoba's George S. W. Wainwright, Saskatchewan's R. E. Brown, Alberta's J. M. Taylor, Medicine Hat, British Columbia's John Laune, Trail.

No Quebec Vote Until Dominion Elections Over

QUEBEC, Aug. 17.—Possibility of parallel Dominion and provincial election campaigns in the province of Quebec was set aside Thursday when Premier L. A. Taschereau announced the provincial elections would not be held until after the Dominion election, Oct. 16, at least.

"Afterwards," he added, "we shall see."

P.O. Worker Files Suit For $100,000

COLUMBUS, S.C., Aug. 17.—Fred Turnipseed, Columbia post office employee, filed suit Thursday for $100,000 against the Broad River Power Company of Columbia, a unit of the Associated Gas and Electric System, for alleged unauthorized signature of his name to a telegram opposing the Bay-Burn-Whelan Utilities bill.

The complaint, alleged a telegram was sent to Senator James Byrnes by the power company asking: "For my best personal interest please read the Bay-Burn-Whelan bill," and that it was signed "Fred Turnipseed."

The New Lake Athabasca Gold Fields

This map shows the northern shore of Lake Athabasca where geologists and prospectors have been active for the past three years. Today three of the largest companies operating in this territory are pushing rapid development of their properties and several reputable mining men are prospecting.

Lake Athabasca will prove to be one of Canada's greatest gold camps. The map gives a very good idea of where the various larger companies claims are located. The heavily bordered claims are the property of the North West Minerals, Limited.

ATHABASCA YIELDS UP RICH GOLD

Mining Men Rushing in to "Crack Open the North"—Finds Sensational

The days of the pioneer are not gone in Canada. The present day pioneers may not be leaving their homes out of the Ontario forests, or breaking the virgin prairie lands of the west; they are not blazing the trail in the Red River cart or prairie schooner, but they are "cracking the north."

They are uncovering in the last of the world's undeveloped treasure houses resources of wealth that can only be fully expressed in the word "gold."

If the prophet has no honor in his own country," as a truism, so also is it a profound truth that those near the sources of wealth do not realize and appreciate its existence, for with the vast mineral resources at the doorstep of Edmonton, many of us are oblivious to the meaning the benefit and the influence of the present day development, taking place in a region only 50 miles from the city—accessible by train and boat with no discomfort whatever, and only five hours distant by plane.

The activities in the Lake Athabasca goldfield at present is going

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

—By William Ferguson

THE ancients arranged the planets thus: Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, the Sun, Venus, Mercury, and the Moon. They assumed that each hour of the day was ruled in turn by one of these planets. Thus, Saturn ruled the first hour of Saturday; also the eighth, fifteenth and twenty-second hours. The twenty-third, beginning the next day, fell to the lot of the sun, therefore that day was called Sunday.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

FEAR IS UNKNOWN IN THE WOLVERINE'S MAKE-UP/ BLACK BEARS, 20 TIMES HIS WEIGHT, WILL LEAVE A CHOICE MEAL, AT HIS APPROACH.

WOLVERINES FREQUENTLY ATTACK PORCUPINES, AND USUALLY DIE. A WEEK OR TWO LATER, OF QUILL POISONING.

THEY WILL FOLLOW A HUNTER FOR MILES, AND STEAL FROM HIM AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY.

LIVES IN THE NORTHERN FORESTED AREAS OF AMERICA AND EUROPE/ BECAUSE OF ITS DIABOLICAL CUNNING, INDIANS AND ESKIMOS BELIEVE THE ANIMAL IS ENDOWED WITH EVIL SPIRITS.

ALTHOUGH THE WOLVERINE SELDOM WEIGHS MORE THAN 25 POUNDS, ITS SAVAGE FEROCITY AND ENORMOUS MUSCULAR POWER MAKE IT A WORTHY FOE FOR ANY ANIMAL IN THE NORTH WOODS... INCLUDING THE LORDLY BULL MOOSE.

AFTER STEALING BAIT FROM A TRAP, THE WOLVERINE OFTEN TIMES MISCHIEVOUSLY HIDES THE TRAP.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

ALL YOU GOTTA DO IS TO STICK YOUR HEAD THRU THAT HOLE, AND DODGE, WHEN PEOPLE THROW BALLS AT YOU!

THAT'S ALL, HUH?

HIT HIM ON THE NOSE AND WIN A CIGAR

IF I CAN USE YOU, I'LL PAY YOU TWO BUCKS A DAY!!

GIMME A TRY!

REMEMBER! IT AINT EASY WORK... THE LAST KID WE HAD HERE WAS IN THE HOSPITAL FOR TWO WEEKS... HIS NAME WAS SHORTY... HE FORGOT TO DUCK!!

THIS IS A CINCH!

YOU'RE DOING OKAY! IT'S EASY, AS LONG AS YOU DODGE 'EM!

I'M FROM THE INSURANCE COMPANY... I HAVE A CHECK FOR SHORTY, TO TAKE CARE OF HIS HOSPITAL BILL!!

OKAY, I'LL SEE THAT HE GETS IT!

HERE'S THE NEW KID WHO'S GONNA TAKE SHORTY'S PLACE. I'D LIKE TO TAKE OUT A POLICY ON HIM... HE'S GOOD AT DODGING!

SORRY, BUT I DON'T THINK WE CAN SELL YOU A POLICY!

WHY NOT?

IN CASE OF AN ACCIDENT, OUR COMPANY PAYS THE INJURED PARTY, UNTIL HIS FACE GETS BACK TO NORMAL!

WHAT'S THAT GOT TO DO WITH IT?

— AND WITH THIS KID, HOW COULD YOU TELL WHAT WAS NORMAL?
